

Essential Tremor is a progressive neurological condition that causes a rhythmic trembling of the hands, head, voice, legs, or body. Over 100 million people worldwide including children have ET, the largest movement disorder in the world. Learn More:
www.diannshaddoxfoundation.org

Essential Tremor is a progressive neurological condition that causes a rhythmic trembling of the hands, head, voice, legs, or body. Over 100 million people worldwide including children have ET, the largest movement disorder in the world. Learn More:
www.diannshaddoxfoundation.org

Essential Tremor is a progressive neurological condition that causes a rhythmic trembling of the hands, head, voice, legs, or body. Over 100 million people worldwide including children have ET, the largest movement disorder in the world. Learn More:
www.diannshaddoxfoundation.org

Essential Tremor is a progressive neurological condition that causes a rhythmic trembling of the hands, head, voice, legs, or body. Over 100 million people worldwide including children have ET, the largest movement disorder in the world. Learn More:
www.diannshaddoxfoundation.org

Essential Tremor is a progressive neurological condition that causes a rhythmic trembling of the hands, head, voice, legs, or body. Over 100 million people worldwide including children have ET, the largest movement disorder in the world. Learn More:
www.diannshaddoxfoundation.org

Essential Tremor is a progressive neurological condition that causes a rhythmic trembling of the hands, head, voice, legs, or body. Over 100 million people worldwide including children have ET, the largest movement disorder in the world. Learn More:
www.diannshaddoxfoundation.org